IMPORTANT NOTICES

Must be preceded or accompanied by a Prospectus.

Opinions expressed herein are those of Edson L. Bridges III and are subject to change. They are not guarantees and should not be considered investment advice.

Fund holdings and sector allocations are subject to change at any time and should not be considered a recommendation to buy or sell any security. Current and future portfolio holdings are subject to risk. Please refer to the Schedule of Investments for complete fund holdings.

The S&P 500 Index (S&P 500) is a broadly based unmanaged composite of 500 stocks which is widely recognized as representative of price changes for the U.S. equity market in general. You cannot invest directly in a specific index.

Free Cash Flow is a measure of financial performance calculated as operating cash flow minus capital expenditures. Free cash flow (FCF) represents the cash that a company is able to generate after laying out the money required to maintain or expand its asset base.

The Price-to-Earnings Ratio or P/E ratio is a ratio for valuing a company that measures its current share price relative to its per-share earnings.

Earnings growth for a Fund holding does not guarantee a corresponding increase in market value of the holding or the Fund.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. Small and medium capitalization companies tend to have limited liquidity and greater price volatility than large-capitalization companies. Investments in debt securities typically decrease in value when interest rates rise. This risk is usually greater for longer-term debt securities. The Fund invests in foreign securities which involve political, economic and currency risks, greater volatility and differences in accounting methods.

While the fund is no-load, management fees and other expenses still apply.

The Bridges Investment Fund is distributed by Quasar Distributors, LLC.

July 8, 2022

Dear Shareholder:

Bridges Investment Fund had a total return of -19.75% in the second quarter of 2022, which trailed the -16.10% decline in the S&P 500 over the same period. For the twelve-month period ended June 30, 2022, the Fund had a total return of -18.38% versus a -10.62% total return for the S&P 500. For the three-year period ended June 30, 2022, the Fund had an average annual total return of 9.25% versus 10.60% for the S&P 500. For the five-year period ended June 30, 2022, the Fund had an average annual total return of 10.58% versus 11.31% for the S&P 500. For the ten-year period ended June 30, 2022, the Fund had an average annual total return of 11.57% versus 12.96% for the S&P 500. The Fund's expense ratio is 0.72%.

Performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of the investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance of the Fund may be lower or higher than the performance stated above. Performance data current to the most recent month end may be obtained by calling 866-934-4700.

U.S. equities declined sharply during the second quarter of 2022, as investors reacted negatively to a confluence of risk factors: rising interest rates, continued higher than expected inflation data, the ongoing conflict in the Ukraine, sharply higher oil prices, and widening credit spreads.

Against this backdrop, the S&P 500 fell 16.10% during the second quarter, bringing its total return to -19.96% year-to-date, the fourth worst start for the U.S. equity market in history.

In our view, the difficult first half was primarily the result of investors materially reducing their willingness to pay for future corporate earnings and cash flows. At the start of 2022, the ten-year Treasury yielded 1.51%; it ended the first half of 2022 yielding 3.02% - a doubling in six months.

Equity valuation metrics are ultimately an estimate by investors of the net present value of all future cash flows that might be earned by a business. As interest rates rise, the net present value of a company's future cash flows declines: higher interest rates reduce the current value of future earnings. Stocks are very long-duration assets because they have the potential to earn cash flows well into the future. Their long duration makes equities particularly sensitive to changes in interest rates over time.

Equity valuations benefitted from the decline in interest rates in recent years, which, in addition to rising corporate earnings as the economy recovered from the pandemic-induced recession, drove stock prices higher.

The yield on the ten-year Treasury bottomed in July of 2020 at 0.53%. The ten-year Treasury yield reached 3.23% in mid-June this year, a substantial increase that has led to a material contraction in equity valuations. The P/E on the S&P 500's 2023 earnings estimate stood at 21x at the beginning of 2022; it was 15x on June 30. Essentially, the contraction in equity valuations was roughly equivalent to, if not slightly more, than the overall decline in the S&P 500 during the first half of the year.

While valuations are an important component of the return investors earn over time, we believe that ultimately, corporate financial performance matters the most to investors, because equity valuations tend to mean revert over time (i.e., move back toward their long-term average, which is about 16-18x earnings).

Consequently, while we seek to understand equity valuations and develop assessments of the "fair value" of a business based on an estimated valuation multiple of a company's profits or free cash flow that we believe is appropriate given the quality and growth characteristics of that business, it is the long-term compounding of a company's profits, dividends, and free cash flows that eventually drives shareholder returns.

The Fund's companies have executed very well over the past several years, heading into, in, and exiting the global recession that was brought on by the pandemic in early 2020, notwithstanding exceptionally challenging economic conditions that have included a rapid transition to remote working, fractured supply chains, product shortages, a very difficult labor market, and sharply higher inflation.

Our companies have generally met, or exceeded, consensus expectations for revenue, earnings, and free cash flow growth. During 2020, higher quality companies were rewarded for strong financial performance; thus far in 2022, higher quality companies have lagged the broader market, notwithstanding continued strong business performance. The relatively poor performance of higher quality companies to date in 2022 has been surprising given it's been against the backdrop of difficult and volatile economic and market conditions.

While frustrating in the short run (the Fund's strong performance in 2020 and 2021 has given way to disappointing performance in 2022), we believe that the sharp contraction in the valuations of many of our companies over the past eighteen months sets the stage for better absolute and relative performance in coming years. Our belief is that over the long run, our companies will continue to generate solid business results, and those results will eventually be reflected in their share prices (as was the case between 2015-2021, when many of the Fund's holdings enjoyed share price advances that roughly tracked their growth in operating metrics and business value growth).

We continue to focus on identifying and owning companies that have: 1) durable competitive advantage, 2) a demonstrated ability to drive solid financial performance across a variety of economic conditions, 3) attractive opportunities to grow, and 4) sensible valuations.

While we expect continued volatile capital markets conditions in the second half of 2022, we have a high degree of confidence in the ability of our companies to achieve good financial results over the long run, and we expect that shareholder returns will eventually reflect those operating results.

We are appreciative of your investment in the Fund, and we are grateful for your patience during difficult market conditions; we continue to be constructive about the long-term prospects for the Fund's holdings.

Sincerely,

EXPENSE EXAMPLE

JUNE 30, 2022
(Unaudited)

As a shareholder of the Bridges Investment Fund, Inc., you incur ongoing costs, including management fees; services fees; and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The Example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held the entire period (January 1, 2022 - June 30, 2022).

ACTUAL EXPENSES

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses. Although the Fund charges no sales load or transactions fees, you will be assessed fees for outgoing wire transfers (including redemption requests), returned checks or stop payment orders at prevailing rates charged by U.S. Bank Global Fund Services, the Fund's transfer agent. To the extent that the Fund invests in shares of other investment companies as part of its investment strategy, you will indirectly bear your proportionate share of any fees and expenses charged by the underlying funds in which a Fund invests in addition to the expenses of the Fund. Actual expenses of the underlying funds are expected to vary among the various underlying funds. These expenses are not included in the example below. The example includes, but is not limited to, management fees, shareholder servicing fees, fund accounting, custody and transfer agent fees. However, the example below does not include portfolio trading commissions and related expenses, interest expense or dividends on short positions taken by the Fund and other extraordinary expenses as determined under generally accepted accounting principles. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

HYPOTHETICAL EXAMPLE FOR COMPARISON PURPOSES

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratios and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs, such as sales charges (loads), redemption fees, or exchange fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

	Beginning Account Value January 1, 2022	Ending Account Value June 30, 2022	Expenses Paid During Period* January 1, 2022 - June 30, 2022
Actual	$1,000.00	$ 737.60	$3.27
Hypothetical (5% annualized return before expenses)	$1,000.00	$1,021.03	$3.81

* Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 0.76%, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 181/365 to reflect the one-half year period.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2022

(Unaudited)

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Bridges Investment Fund, Inc. (the “Fund”) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, open-end management investment company. The primary investment objective of the Fund is long-term capital appreciation. In pursuit of that objective, the Fund invests primarily in common stocks. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”). The Fund is an investment company and accordingly follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946 Financial Services - Investment Companies.

A. Investments -

Security transactions are recorded on trade date. Dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date, and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis. Discount and premium on fixed income securities is accreted or amortized into interest income using the effective interest method. Withholding taxes on foreign dividends, if any, have been provided for in accordance with the Fund’s understanding of the applicable country’s tax rules and rates.

The net realized gain (loss) from the sales of securities is determined for income tax and accounting purposes on the basis of the cost of specific securities.

Securities owned are reflected in the accompanying Statement of Assets and Liabilities and the Schedule of Investments at fair value based on quoted market prices. Bonds and other fixed-income securities (other than repurchase agreements and demand notes) are valued using market quotations or a matrix method provided by an independent pricing service. Other securities traded on a national securities exchange are valued at the last reported sale price at the close of regular trading on each day the exchange is open for trading. Securities listed on the NASDAQ National Market System for which market quotations are readily available are valued using the NASDAQ Official Closing Price (“NOCP”). If no sales were reported on that day, quoted market price represents the closing bid price.

Investments in registered open-end management investment companies will be valued based upon the Net Asset Value (“NAV”) of such investments and are categorized as Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.

Securities for which prices are not readily available are valued by the Fund's valuation committee (the "Valuation Committee") at a fair value determined in good faith under procedures established by and under the general supervision of the Fund's Board of Directors (the "Board").

The Valuation Committee concludes that a price determined under the Fund's valuation procedures is not readily available if, among other things, the Valuation Committee believes that the value of the security might be materially affected by an intervening significant event. A significant event may be related to a single issuer, to an entire market sector, or to the entire market. These events may include, among other things: issuer-specific events including rating agency action, earnings announcements and corporate actions, significant fluctuations in domestic or foreign markets, natural disasters, armed conflicts, and government actions. In the event that the market quotations are not readily available, the fair value of such securities will be determined in good faith, taking into consideration: (i) fundamental analytical data relating to the investment; (ii) the nature and duration of restrictions on disposition of the securities; and (iii) an evaluation of the forces which influence the market in which these securities are purchased and sold. The members of the Valuation Committee shall continuously monitor for significant events that might necessitate the use of fair value procedures.

B. Federal Income Taxes -

It is the Fund's policy to continue to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to Regulated Investment Companies ("RICs") to distribute all of its taxable income to shareholders. Therefore, no Federal income tax provision for the Fund is required. Under applicable foreign tax law, a withholding tax may be imposed on interest, dividends, and capital gains earned on foreign securities.

The character of distributions made during the year from net investment income or net realized gains may differ from its ultimate characterization for federal income tax purposes. In addition, due to the timing of dividend distributions, the fiscal year in which amounts are distributed may differ from the year that the income or realized gains or losses were recorded by the Fund. The Fund has reclassified the components of its capital accounts for the year ended December 31, 2021, by increasing total distributable earnings by $321,979 and decreasing capital stock by $321,979.

The Fund has not recorded any liability for material unrecognized tax benefits as of December 31, 2021. It is the Fund's policy to recognize accrued interest and penalties related to uncertain benefits in income tax expense as appropriate on the Statement of Operations.

C. Distribution To Shareholders -

The Fund records and distributes net investment income, if any, to shareholders on a quarterly basis on the ex-dividend date. Distribution of net realized gains, if any, are recorded and made on an annual basis to shareholders on the ex-dividend date.

D. Use of Estimates -

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in Net Assets from operations during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

E. Fair Value Measurements -

GAAP defines fair value as the price that a Fund would receive upon selling an investment in a timely transaction to an independent buyer in the principal or most advantageous market of the investment. A three-tier hierarchy is used to maximize the use of observable market data “inputs” and minimize the use of unobservable “inputs” and to establish classification of fair value measurements for disclosure purposes. Inputs refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk. Inputs may be observable or unobservable. Observable inputs are inputs that reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on market data obtained from sources independent of the reporting entity. Unobservable inputs are inputs that reflect the reporting entity’s own assumptions about the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. The three-tier hierarchy of inputs is summarized in the three broad Levels listed below:

Level 1 - Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical investments.

Level 2 - Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

Level 3 - Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available; representing the Fund’s own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The valuation techniques used by the Fund to measure fair value for the six months ended June 30, 2022, maximized the use of observable inputs and minimized the use of unobservable inputs. During the six months ended June 30, 2022, no securities held by the Fund were deemed Level 3.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of June 30, 2022, in valuing the Fund's investments carried at fair value:

	Level 1	Level 2	Level 3	Total
Investments
Common Stocks	$194,068,765	$ —	$ —	$194,068,765

Total Investments
in Securities	$195,229,644	$ —	$ —	$195,229,644

Refer to the Schedule of Investments for further information on the classification of investments.

(2) INVESTMENT ADVISORY CONTRACT AND OTHER TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

Under an Investment Advisory Contract, Bridges Investment Management, Inc. (the "Investment Adviser") furnishes investment advisory services for the Fund. In return, the Fund has agreed to pay the Investment Adviser a management fee computed on a quarterly basis at the rate of 1/8 of 1% of the average month-end NAV of the Fund during the quarter, equivalent to 1/2 of 1% per annum. Certain officers and directors of the Fund are also officers and directors of the Investment Adviser. These officers do not receive any compensation from the Fund other than that which is received indirectly through the Investment Adviser. For the six months ended June 30, 2022, the Fund incurred $568,854 in advisory fees.

The contract between the Fund and the Investment Adviser provides that total expenses of the Fund in any year, exclusive of taxes, but including fees paid to the Investment Adviser, shall not exceed, in total, a maximum of 1 and 1/2% of the average month end NAV of the Fund for the year. Amounts, if any, expended in excess of this limitation are reimbursed by the Investment Adviser as specifically identified in the Investment Advisory Contract. There were no amounts reimbursed during the six months ended June 30, 2022.

The Fund has entered into a Board-approved contract with the Investment Adviser in which the Investment Adviser acts as primary administrator to the Fund at an annual rate of $42,000, through quarterly payments of $10,500. U.S. Bancorp Fund Services, LLC, doing business as U.S. Bank Global Fund Services, acts as sub-administrator to the Fund. These administrative expenses are combined as Administration fees on the Statement of Operations. As of June 30, 2022, $10,500 was due to the Investment Adviser for its services as primary administrator, which is included in the Accrued expenses on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

(3) SECURITY TRANSACTIONS
